Camp TaPaWingo Tree & Shrub Sale

Native, disease-resistant species, grown by reputable nurseries in our climate, and dug immediately before your pick up, will again be available through Camp TaPaWingo. These reasonably-priced plants are useful for wildlife food and cover, windbreaks, timber production, and environmental screens. Our staff will provide advice on planning, planting, and managing your trees and shrubs. Limited numbers of trees and shrubs are available; please order early.

ORDER DEADLINE: March 29, 2019

TREES

Tamarack (Larix laricina): known for being durable in soil, used for posts, poles and pulpwood • only deciduous Wisconsin conifer • grows in wet soils, ponds and bogs, but also uplands • golden yellow autumn color • mature height 40-80'

Balsam Fir (Abies balsamea): used for Christmas trees and as an ornamental • moist, fertile soils • full to partial sun • soft, bright green needles with pleasant fragrance • mature height 45-70'

Northern White Cedar (Thuja occidentalis): used for screening or windbreaks • moist to well-drained soils • full to partial sun • pyramidal form • dense, flat aromatic needles with small cones • a source of winter food for deer, may need protection • mature height 40'

Red Pine (Pinus resinosa): loamy to sandy soils • full to partial sun • 4-6" long needles and 1 ½ to 2 ¼" cones • mature height 80'

White Pine (Pinus strobes): excellent combination with hardwoods in plantations • moist to well-drained soils • full to partial sun • soft green needles 3 to 5" long and 5 to 8" cones • a source of food for deer, so may need protection • mature height 75'

Colorado Blue Spruce (Picea pungens 'Glauca'): used for wildlife cover • well-drained soils • full sun • stiff, blue-green needles • slow growing • mature height 30-60'

White Spruce (Picea glauca): used for Christmas trees, wind breaks, and as ornamentals • moist, fertile soils • full to partial sun • stiff, green needles • matures height 40-60'

Northern Red Oak (Quercus rubra): wide, massive shade tree • provides food for turkey, blue jay, and ruffed grouse • prefers dry uplands • dull green leaves turning red in autumn • acorns have smooth caps • mature height 60-75'

White Oak (Quercus alba): Broad dense headed tree with purple-red fall color • is excellent for wildlife planting • mature height 50-80'

Sugar Maple (Acer saccharum): official state tree of Wisconsin • tapped for maple syrup, wood used for furniture, flooring and fuel • rich, moist soil • leaves break down quickly to make rich organic fertilizer • mature height 60-70'

Black Cherry (Prunus serotina): bears dark green leaves which turn yellow to red in fall • edible fruit • Blooms white flowers in spring • prefers well-drained soil • mature height 50-60'
